

CHINESE DIPLOMATS ADVISE REGENT TO ABDICATE THRONE

Royal Safety and Cessation of Bloodshed Urged by Manchu Heads.

PEKING, China, Nov. 14.—It was learned today that the prince regent is being urged to abdicate by nearly all of the diplomats who have represented China in the largest of the foreign capitals. Their loyalty to the Manchu cause is unquestioned, nearly all of them being Manchus themselves.

Plans that the throne prevent further bloodshed were made following the address sent to the regent by Wu Tingfang, former minister to Washington, in which he declared the only safety for the Manchus lay in such a course.

In Yuan Shi Kai, who arrived yesterday with 2,000 troops, although ostensibly here only to advise the government in its dealings with the revolutionaries, it is said his troops are to safeguard the royal household should an abdication be determined upon.

Outlaws are now becoming so active throughout the empire that there is talk on all sides of Manchu and rebel troops allying themselves and making common cause against the hands, who are killing and plundering on every hand.

More than 50,000 pirates are active along the coast, and foreign ships do not escape the ravages. A dispatch from Hongkong states that the two notorious robber chiefs, Liu and Ching, and Li Tang Tung, have entered Canton at the head of an outlaw army and are holding the city panic-stricken.

Rebel Fleet Advances On Nanking, Largest City Still Untaken

SHANGHAI, Nov. 14.—While Yuan Shi Kai, the last hope of the Manchu administration in China, is revealing to a committee of the national assembly the conditions throughout the empire which evidently make the Manchu a lost cause, the revolutionaries have today prepared to send the thirteen vessels of the imperial fleet, which joined them yesterday, against the "government" forces at Nanking.

With the revolutionary flags flying from their tops, the warships steamed up the river past the berths occupied by the foreign vessels, none of which acknowledged the salutes of the rebels. It is said the officers of the vessels will be retained in command by the revolutionary leaders.

It seems impossible that Nanking, the largest city on the Yangtze river still in possession of the government, will be able to withstand the assault of the warships, the strongest in the Chinese navy.

Reports from Chang Chow Fu in southern China, which went over to the rebels yesterday, say the city is overrun with thieves. It surrendered without fighting, as most of the inhabitants were in sympathy with the revolution. All buildings have been looted by the invading soldiers, and their officers seem unable to enforce discipline. The property of the city is being pillaged, and the rebels are threatening to protect their possessions, alone prevented massacre.

New Chrysanthemums Are Shown in Exhibit

Three new specimens of chrysanthemums of colossal size and unusual formation are attracting attention of visitors at the floral exhibit of J. H. Small & Sons.

One of the new flowers, yet unnamed, is a seedling from the President Roosevelt chrysanthemum. It is a pure white flower, half double with incurled petals. Another from the Roosevelt stem is yellow and brown with the same peculiar incurled petals. Another is a beautiful shade of pink, shading from pure white. This measure about three inches across. A variation of this flower is a wholly pink specimen of about the same size.

These specimens of the chrysanthemum grower's art have been developed by a gardener G. H. La Valle. His horticultural experience covers a period of more than 40 years and he has made a special study of chrysanthemums. The flowers are being shown at the exhibit at the store at Fourteenth and G streets, as well as at the conservatories on the Brentwood road, near the District line.

Among the baby chrysanthemums are specimens embracing a wide range of colors, from deep crimson to pure white. These flowers, which grow in clusters, have quite a vogue this season.

One of the prettiest chrysanthemums that the Small company is showing is one named "Mayor Weavum," which comes from the far West. It is a beautiful pink. The yellow ivory is, as its name suggests, of a beautiful ivory tint.

The white chrysanthemums with golden centers seem so fragile as to suggest wax flowers, and the flamboyant crimson and vermilion blossoms suggest balls of fire. Altogether over 2,000 of the flowers of autumn are used in this remarkable exhibit.

Scouts Arrive Tomorrow in Capital

E. L. Ferguson, James Hemstreet, and Ira Waterman, the good roads scouts of the American Automobile Association, who are laying out a new route between New York and Jacksonville, will arrive here tomorrow. Through an accident to the speedometer on their Kirt car, the scouts were compelled to lay over today in Warrenton, Va., while new parts for the instrument were rushed from this city.

CONGRESS TO GET TWO MESSAGES ON TARIFF QUESTION

Learned From White House
That President Will Discuss
Cotton and Wool.

The fact came out at the White House this morning that the President will send at least two special messages to Congress dealing with the tariff, and that one will discuss the report of the Tariff Board on cotton and the other on wool.

It also became known that these reports will have much to say about the cost of living throughout the country and the reasons for the higher level of commodities which the labor of the country uses.

The first message on the tariff will be sent to Congress following the annual message, which goes in on the second or third day. This probably will have some recommendations bearing upon the wool revision. The Tariff Board has announced its report on wool will be ready first and after it the report on cotton.

The President will send the second tariff message to Congress on the cotton schedule. Opinions had been expressed by Senator Foraker and other stand-pat leaders that there would be no tariff revision at the coming session of Congress. It appears they are wrong. The President will recommend a revision of those schedules upon which he has received reports.

Aged Italian Dead; Will Be Buried Here

Giuseppe Carollo, eighty-seven years old, well known patriarch in Washington's Italian colony, who for the last fifteen years has lived with his children in the District, died of the infirmities of age at an early hour this morning. Carollo's wife died in Italy twenty years ago, and afterward the husband came to Washington to spend his old age. The funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 2 o'clock at St. Mary's Catholic church. The body will not be sent back to Italy, but will be interred in St. Mary's cemetery.

Five children survive. They are Onorato Carollo, 816 Sixth street northwest, with whom the aged man was living; Benedetto Carollo, of Lexington, Ky., and four daughters, Mrs. Marie Annetta Sindone, Mrs. Augustina Verde, Mrs. Josephine Lascola, and an unmarried daughter, Rosalina Carollo.

Mrs. Mussey to Tell of Summer Trip in Talk

Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey, dean of the Washington College of Law and member of the Board of Education, will deliver an address this evening at Loyal Legion Hall, 419 Tenth street, for the benefit of the Ladies of the Union.

Mrs. Mussey will describe her summer trip, the title of the lecture being "Across the Continent," and "From The Golden Gate to Alaska."

Report of Chinda's Transfer Unconfirmed

No word has reached the Japanese embassy confirming the report that Viscount Chinda is to be transferred from Germany to the United States. It was stated at the embassy today that, contrary to reports in morning papers, the matter of Viscount Chinda's coming is still the same—that is, it is expected that he will be sent here, but official action does not yet seem to have been taken in Tokyo.

Coast Signal Service Subject of Lecture

"The Navy's Coast Signal Service," is the topic of an address to be delivered tonight by Lieut. Commander D. W. Todd, United States Navy, at the November meeting of the Washington section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the telephone building. Commander Todd will tell of the wireless telegraph system of the navy, both afloat and ashore.

BOTH SIDES HURRY TO COMPLETE JURY IN McNAMARA CASE

Effort Will Be Made to Fill
Box for Second Exercising of Challenges.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 14.—Determined to complete a jury as rapidly as possible, both sides in the McNamara case started work today in an earnest effort to qualify three men to fill the vacant seats in the box, so that the second exercising of preemptory challenges might begin late this afternoon or tomorrow. The sixth venire reported in court today, including Frank Baker, head of the Baker Iron works, and several other prominent members of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association.

District Attorney Fredericks is anxious to get the trial started as soon as possible, and as a result is accepting men who ordinarily would be rejected. Of the men in the box submitted for preemptory challenge, Clark McLean, the Pasadena banker; Alexander Gribble, Willett Brunner, and T. I. Green united in telling the prosecutor they could hardly convict McNamara on circumstantial evidence.

LABOR UNIONS WILL FIGHT LIVING COST IN CONCERTED MOVE

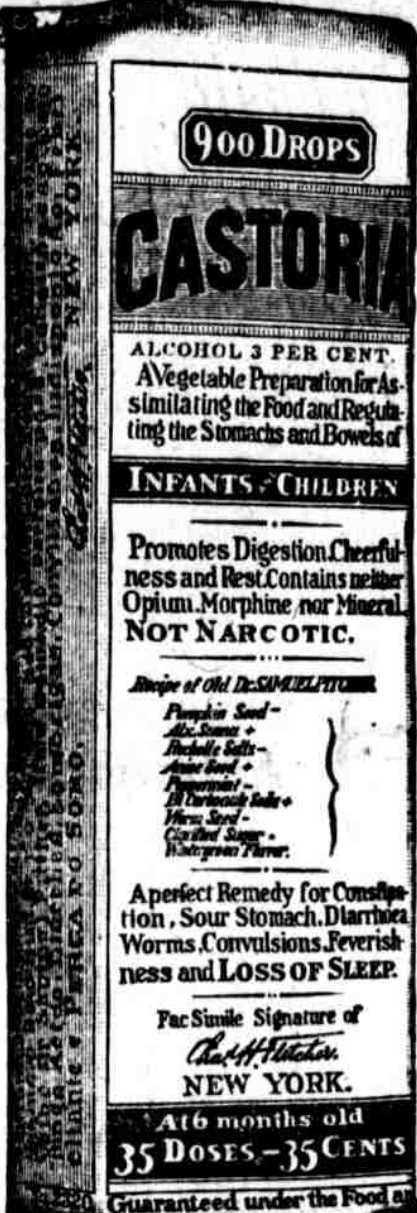

Leader Lynch to Organize
Co-operative Leagues in All Cities.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 14.—A union labor war against the high cost of food products throughout the country is the aim of the "Cost of Living League," as announced here today by President James M. Lynch, of the International Typographical Union, and chairman of the committee which is putting into action the purposes of the new league.

Mr. Lynch said today nothing but continual agitation, such as can be carried on only through an organization, will uncover the real causes of the excessive cost of living.

He plans for the organization of "cost of living leagues" in every city where organized labor is found. An interchange of information and co-operative opposition will ultimately lead to methods whereby the high cost of living problem will be solved. Mr. Lynch will supervise the organization of a score of leagues in the larger cities immediately.

The local organization, already well started, will join with the co-operative buying organizations recently launched here by the employees of the Pennsylvania railroad and the postoffice employees.
